

Hospital Reserve Corps Women Study Straight Shooting

Frank Yoran Coaches Local Group in Rifle Science

Fifteen Tarrytown women are manning the guns these evenings at the Y.M.C.A. where Legionnaire Frank Yoran is instructing them in the elements of defense and offense at rifle range.

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of the Tarrytowns, the group is a unit of the American Hospital Reserve Corps, which Mr. Yoran, former president of Spencer-Kelly Post 267, American Legion is coaching.

Miss Montell Pruyn of South Broadway is chairman of the group, which previously held a first aid course under the same auspices, as part of the national defense program.

At the completion of this course, which will meet every Tuesday during the next eight weeks, two other courses will be sponsored. Mrs. Louise Eastman has been named chairman of the motor mechanics sessions, and Mrs. Samuel Miller, chairman of the home nursing unit.

Mr. Yoran is qualified as a rifle instructor since he was graduated from a course at Camp Perry, Ohio in 1939. He was one of fifteen men of the New York State Civilian Rifle Team who attended the sessions to qualify for the national civilian matches.

Instruction this week centered about the sighting bar and the triangulation exercise. By looking through the sight of the bar, the student becomes familiar with the position of the bullseye necessary for a perfect score.

Following this preliminary exercise, students switched to a prone position before a rifle placed before gym mats and sighted at a target 25 feet away. Three sights were allowed each person at the target, moved each time by an assistant, and the score was indicated on a sheet of paper when the student claimed the sight was in line with the target.

Mr. Yoran is following the Army manual of instruction, which is divided into general rifle practice and individual marksmanship. Next week shooting positions will be taught, and when shooting time comes, the ladies expect to use the Tarrytown Police rifle range by the Tarrytown Lakes. A rifle syllabus furnished by the Reserve Corps is used.

Alex Kilmer, now in his second year as Chief Commander of Spencer Kelly Post, was on hand to welcome the new recruits and said that the American Legion was glad to furnish the instructor to further defense training.

Attending the class are Miss Blanche Gervais, president of the Young Women's Club, Miss Marie Peters, Miss Lillian Adell, Miss Evelyn Brown, Miss Betty Davidson, Miss Josephine Jacobs, Miss Montell Pruyn, Miss Meda Davis, Miss Louise Wells, Miss Sarah Cohen, Mrs. Clara Miller, Mrs. Ella Griffin, Mrs. Edith M. Brunt, Mrs. Peggy Tumm, and Mrs. Louise Eastman.

Mrs. Thomas Luke Will Be Hostess

Irvington Missionary Society to End Season

Mrs. Thomas Luke of White Plains Road will be hostess on Tuesday afternoon to the Women's Missionary Society of the Irvington Presbyterian Church.

At this closing meeting the guest speaker will be Miss Mary Turner, young people's secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions. Transportation will be arranged for Irvington members, with cars leaving the church at 2:15 o'clock.

"GOES IN HERE, comes out there," explains former Commander Frank Yoran of Spencer-Kelly Post, American Legion, to these earnest students of firearms. Miss Montell Pruyn (left) and Miss Blanche Gervais (right) are members of a rifle unit of the American Women's Hospital Reserve Corps, local branch. Having completed a preliminary first aid course, the corps members are taking up various branches of useful defense service. The rifle group is learning fundamentals of the science at the Y. M. C. A. They will take to the Pocantico Hills range when they become more proficient.

Annual N. T. Spring Music Festival Rates High in Entertainment Value

Junior-Senior High School Students Parade Talents Before Capacity Audience in Auditorium

Music in the air brought a capacity crowd to the North Tarrytown School auditorium last night for a display of every branch of musical and vocal talent of the student body.

Junior and senior choruses and orchestras paraded accomplishments in a program chosen for popular appeal. Selections for this annual Music Festival were picked with an eye and ear for the audience's taste, so that popular classics, light opera and melodious pieces predominated. The young people performed well, and their parents and friends were pleased as well as proud.

This does not mean that the selections on last night's program were technically easy, simply because they are familiar and popular. The youngsters had many a technical hurdle, which they took with apparent ease under the direction of Miss Helen E. Ferris, vocal director, and Donald J. Pease, instrumental director.

Members of the Senior Orchestra include: Violins: Grace Priere, Mary Galand, Melvin Goldner, Robert Hampton, Stephanie Matzer, Lorena Mills, Richard Neuwander, Gilbert John, Mary Jane Raniola, Virginia Schmidt.

W. I. Student Band, Opening Music Series, Stirs Large Audience

Streamlined Band Presents Colorful Program Under Hackett

Band concert de luxe opened the annual Spring music series at the Washington Irving High School last night, with 90 students taking part in the display.

Carleton H. Hackett directed the program, stream-lined in modern band manner, to show off the talents of the individual members and sections of his group. Uniforms, twirling majorettes, color guard added to the general ensemble for a colorful parade as well as a stirring band performance. It was a good show, according to a large audience, which was literally brought to its feet by a gusty student enthusiasm.

The music concerts will continue next Friday afternoon with a program in the P. R. Pierson School at two o'clock under the direction of Miss Elgitha Wilson. Finals of the series will be Friday night, May 16 when C. E. Dinsmore will direct glee clubs and orchestras.

Trumpets: Ronald Guzik, Georgiana Hagen, Donald Livingston, Herbie Lyons, Arthur Pollack, Fred Poulter, Dick Van Derze, Irving Small, Dick Sowdan, June Whitman, Bill Chesnut, Joe Hagle.

Trombones: Burton Chabot, Ellen Doyle, Pete Guernsey, Tom Hansen, Jack Mace, Abner Claiborne, Walden Purdy.

Sousaphone: Eugene DeAngelis, Dana Cook, Frank Des Champs.

Flutes: Elba Chicachee, Estelle Oliver, Gerald Dudley, Marilyn Pincus, Mary Harriet Thompson.

Also Horn: Philip Bilboa, Claude Mace.

"Why we like Van Tassel Apartments"
"IMPOSING LIST OF INGREDIENTS"

"To single out any specific feature as responsible for our preference for the Van Tassel Apartments would be as mere conceit as an attempt to justify one's enjoyment of a savory dish by merely naming the ingredients."

"The proximity to schools and shopping—bus service—Briarcliff Lodge membership—selection of tenants—superior playground—frequent parties—beautiful gardens—private police force, and the numerous other conveniences we have found and appreciated there, make a really imposing list of 'ingredients.' However, it is of the utmost importance that these be carefully handled. That they are, is proven by the fact that we live in a friendly community of homes, enjoying the sum of these desirable features."

London Letter to Tarrytowner Thanks Local Women for Help

Mrs. Ernie Young Sends Daily News Clipping to England; Reply Stresses Appreciation for Efforts

TARRYTOWN women received a letter from England this week in care of Mrs. Ernie O. Young, 107 Devries Avenue, Phillips Manor.

Written by Mrs. Young's sister, Mrs. James Green of Malda Vale, London, the letter is apropos of a clipping from the Tarrytown Daily News on the work of the British War Relief Society, which Mrs. Young had sent to England. Simply and sincerely expressed, the message should hearten the many local residents who have been taking time from already busy days to work for Britain's war sufferers.

The sweaters, socks, dresses, sent by B. W. R. S. and Red Cross units to England are needed and appreciated, and such a letter as that quoted below makes the knitting, sewing and fund-raising seem more direct and personal. Too often, organization in relief work seems to be poured into an endless and insensate well. Letters like Mrs. Green's personalize the work into more than mere filling a quota.

Here it is:
23 Clifton Villas,
Malda Vale, London,
April 4, 1941.

"Dear Flo:
I have just read in the Tarrytown Daily News of Feb. 19 which you sent me in your last letter a very interesting and informative account of how local residents are rallying to aid work for suffering England."

After reading of the activities of the Tarrytown British War Relief Society, I feel I must write and express, to the best of my ability, the appreciation and gratitude that we here in England, and in London particularly, feel for the wonderful efforts made on our behalf, and I should like these sentiments conveyed, not only to those at the head of your organization, but to the individual members whose untiring work makes possible the sending of these invaluable comforts at a time such as this. I am certain that when I write these words I am expressing the feelings of every English woman, and I should like to say, for those of us who are unable to write to you,

IT'S AN ART to spend money

Somehow, it's a lot more fun to spend money now, in the good old summer-time. Maybe that's because we spend more of it on living—and less on just keeping alive.

There's only one catch! The money we have to spend doesn't ever go quite far enough. It's so easy to spend it all, and then some, before vacation time really starts . . . unless we take a tip from the stores and learn to budget our buying, and buy more for less.

How? Well, one step in the right direction is to watch the advertisements like a hawk, going through your newspaper every time it arrives, to find things you need now or will need very soon.

If you haven't formed that habit, start now. You'll be surprised how many extra-good buys you'll discover at every reading! How much more you get and how much less you spend!

That's why stores run advertisements—to tell you of special chances to buy fine things at advantageous prices. It's to your definite advantage to stop, look, listen . . . and ACT.
